Electric and electronic equipment contains materials, components and substances that can be hazardous to your health and the environment, if the waste material (discarded electric and electronic equipment) is not handled correctly.

Electric and electronic equipment is marked with the crossed out trash can symbol, seen above. This symbol signifies that electric and electronic equipment should not be disposed of with other household waste, but should be disposed of separately.

All cities have established collection points, where electric and electronic equipment can either be submitted free of charge at recycling stations and other collection sites, or be collected from the households. Additional information is available at the technical department of your city.
